BOTTLE FROM CONDOR TELLS OF WARSHIP

Victoria, B. C., May 28.—A bottle containing a message purporting to be from the man-of-war Condor, which was lost at sea after leaving Esquimaux on December 2 with 104 officers and men on board, has been found by the Hesquilt Indians, on the west coast of Vancouver Island. The steamer Queen City, which reached Alberni today on her way to Victoria, has the message, which is consigned to the British Admiralty. It is written in ink on a small piece of brown paper and was enclosed in a tightly sealed bottle, which drifted ashore near Hesquilt. The message reads:
MidOcean, Jan. 5, 1902. H. M. S. Condor—Ship sank; all lost except first officer and two middies, who escaped in small boat. We are at the sea's mercy.
A. S. RODGERS.
Although it will be remembered that a boat from the lost warship drifted on to the Vancouver Island coast, little damaged, on January 10, five days after the dating of this message, there is little disposition to regard the message as a genuine one. The fact that it is written in ink leads to the belief that the message is a fake.

RUSSIA'S FLEET IN ORIENT.

Yokohama, May 10.—The Japanese Consul at Vladivostok reports, under date of the 25th of April, that the rules of the Russian Volunteer Steamship Company have received Imperial sanction, and that company will have a subsidy of 600,000 roubles annually for ten years. The company undertakes to make at least eighteen trips with its own steamers annually between Vladivostok, Odessa and St. Petersburg. It also engages to call at Port Arthur if required by the Minister of War to do so. This company is nominally under the direction of the Naval Department, but it makes commerce its regular business and adapts its voyages to the requirements of trade.

SUNDAY BULLETIN for the ADVERTISER

The SUNDAY BULLETIN has the greatest possibilities for the advertiser—figure it out yourself—1 and 1=2. The Sunday newspaper, like the evening paper, reaches the home and in the home the advertisement is effective. On Sunday there is ample time to read all the advertisements, besides the news and magazine features.

One advertisement carefully read is worth more than a bushel unread. The SUNDAY BULLETIN means your announcement read in every home.
